

Is It Time for Hospice?

Has there been a rapid decline in the past 6 months/ year despite aggressive therapies?

Has there been a decline in alertness, more withdrawal, increased sleeping or mental confusion?

Is there increased difficulty or inability to perform the normal daily living tasks?

Has there been less desire to eat, weight loss or noted body changes?

Have there been frequent trips to the ER or hospital?

Has there been an increase in pain, shortness of breath, and or frequent or recurring infections?

Is it becoming more difficult for the medical team and family to meet the everchanging needs of the loved one?

Is there a desire to focus on quality of life rather than continued aggressive treatments?
